

Lochsteinen via Rasthysi to Gaggi Säge

Lochsteinen - Rasthysi - Holewang - Allschliechtli - Gaggi Säge

The Lochsteinen bus stop is the starting point for this wonderful hike through a rustic landscape. The route leads through forests and across meadows on a well-surfaced road to the Rasthysi with its inviting self-service restaurant and on to Holewang. The narrow path across the meadows of the Sumpfen area requires a little extra attention; the diverse fauna and flora as well as the huge boulders make hikers pause again and again to marvel at nature. From Allschliechtli, field and forest paths as well as the connecting road finally lead in wide bends down to the Gaggi Säge bus stop near the village of Grindelwald.

20 minutes: At the bus stop, a sign shows how long it takes to walk along the connecting road towards Waldspitz to the first waypoint on this hike, the Rasthysi restaurant. The paved road first leads through the shady forest and then along meadows. If you like, you can take a short break at the self-service restaurant. The next waypoint, Holewang, is only a few minutes' walk away. There, the signpost points to a narrow meadow path through the Sumpfen area. Huge boulders and varied flora and fauna characterise this part of the hike. The path finally leads into a dirt track. If you like admiring natural works of art, you should turn left and follow the dirt track. A few minutes' walk away, nature has created impressive works of art with gnarled deciduous trees.

The trip to the tree experience takes about 20 minutes there and back. The path then leads down across the meadows towards Grindelwald. Before the Bachweidli area, this finally leads into a dirt track. On the following section down to Allschliechtli, a small babbling stream accompanies the hikers. From this waypoint, the trail descends via an access road and forest paths to Brünneli. It only takes just under 10 minutes to get to the Gaggi Säge bus stop, which can easily be walked on the paved road. If you're not tired yet, you can continue the hike. The walk down to the village of Grindelwald only takes another 15 minutes.
